“Do not stand at my Grave & weep I'm not there, I do not sleep. I am a thousand winds that blow. I am the diamond glints on the snow. I am the sunlight on the ripened grain. I am the gentle Autumn's rain. When you awaken in the morning hush, I am the swift uplifting rush of Birds in circled flight. I am the soft stars that shine at night. Do not stand at my grave & cry. I am not there . I did not die. I went where I can watch over each of you. We will meet again in Heaven above. I am only a thought away.”

Grandma--

Every day I miss you, but I know you are just a thought away. I can talk to you everyday. I love you with all my heart, and I know I will see you again someday. You may be gone from my sight, but you will always be in my heart. The memories can never be taken away.

Love,
Jennifer

“ I share with my children often of the memories I have as a child with my grandma. As I play at the park with them I am often reminded of the times my sister and I would have a picnic at the park...Grandma always packed us our lunch..mine in a little red lunchbox that I still have. She would give us her famous "underdog" as she pushed us on the swings, I now do that with my kids. She had a beautiful spirit and left many memories for me. My heart aches because I would have loved to have made many many more. She never missed a chior concert I was in, she made us birthday cakes and whenever I was sick at school she would bring me to her house and make chicken noodle soup and spend the day with me. One of my favorite memories with her is when we would come over every tuesday night and play Yahtzee andhave snacks together. She was a remarkable woman. I hope she knows how much I love her and the spot she has in my heart. the above are only a small fraction of all the memories I have with her...but these are times no one can ever take away. My children may have never known her, but I will continue to pass these memories on to them so they will grow up knowing what a special person she was. She will be truly missed.
