“ Francis gave many strangers a gift that will last a lifetime. I had forgotten, until recently while watching home videos that he let my dearest father-in-law drive his Haflingers around his property for a birthday present from us, bringing back old memories of Art's days working on a horse farm. The only connection I had with Francis was that he knew Lorne was our Farrier, that's it. Francis accepted nothing for this generous act.

Years later, I approached him once more. You see, a friend of mine longed to own a horse someday and had recently bought one from Mr. Hooper. The horse was still being trained and meanwhile my friend Sue was diagnosed with Lou Gehrig's Disease (ALS) and unfortunately her disease process advanced quickly, preventing her from ever mounting her beautiful horse. Appealing again to Francis and his generous nature, I explained the situation. Without hesitation, Fran polished up his most beautiful carriage, his beautiful ponies and transported them across town surprising her with the opportunity to drive them on her own country property next to Horse Creek with her family by her side, holding her up while she held the reins, smiling from ear to ear. Again, he accepted nothing in return for this generous act of kindness. A memory made for Sue and her family that they will NEVER forget, nor will I. Rest in peace Francis. You will always have a special place in my heart! My deepest sympathy to his family and friends, Vikki Carlson

“ He was a very nice man and neighbor. He enjoyed deer hunting with my father and always lend a hand when needed. I enjoyed plowing his driveway when my dad couldn't in the winter. He will be sadly missed.
