“ I am extremely saddened by your loss. Alex was a great friend and former co-worker at the Kankakee Country Club. We knew eachother for many years before that as well. My wife and I will keep your family in our prayers. Unfortunately, I will not be able to attend the funeral due to US Marines Corps obligations. I truly wish I could be there. Again my deepest sympathies.##imported-begin##Wade Bisailon##imported-end##

“ I was saddened to hear about the death of your precious Alexander. I lost a daughter five years ago and have always appreciated comforting words. I noticed that Alexander came from a religious family so you may already be familiar with the comfort that the scriptures bring. Hope of a resurrection was made possible by the ransom sacrifice of Jesus and therefore we have hope. 1 Thessalonians 4:13 states that because of this hope we will "not sorrow just as the rest also do who have no hope". Because of this confidence in the resurrection our sorrow will not be relenting. I am thinking of Alexanders friends and family as I write. I would be willing to send you free additional information that truly gives one a Bible based hope on seeing your dear loved one again. Please know that I am just sharing how I have coped with my daughters death and I know this is what has gotten me through a most horrible experience. I am so sad when ones lose a child and don't know about this hope.....because after losing a child hope is all we have.....Sincerely Dawn Risk ##imported-begin##Dawn Risk##imported-end##

I did not even know about the tragedy until tonight. God has very strange and unfair plans at times. May you rest on your family for support for now. “ Dear Alex, Words are circling in my head with what to say. You meant so much to us all. I cannot tell you how many times I asked Aunt Patty where you were when you couldn't make it sometimes to family gatherings. I never knew about your heart condition, but I never would have been able to tell either. Little did you know, your heart was stronger than you think. And now, you don't have to worry about a thing. ĩ½You will be missed so, so much.

Say hello to grandma and grandpa Norman for me! Give them a huge hug!!!

Love you,
