“ Wendi and I worked closely together providing Speech and Language services to the students at Lowell and Whittier Elementary Schools in Harvey. She was a dedicated Therapist who loved working with her students. She always went the extra mile to help them. She and I shared a love for decorative fancy holiday socks. We often gave special funny socks to each other. The students and staff have asked about her since she retired. One little one could only say a few words. When he saw me he would stop me and ask "Where Simack?" I have missed her so much since she retired. We kept in touch by phone, though not as often as I wished. My prayers to the family.
