“ We are so saddened to hear of the passing of my only great aunt. Twenty years ago my father, the only nephew and son of aunt Bina's late brother Macklin was able to connect with this wonderful and beautiful person. She was able to tell my father about the father he never knew. That was so very important to my father and to aunt Bina. My father like his father worked in the newspaper business. My father has been with the same paper for 60 years. I know that when aunt Bina reunites with Macklin, her little brother, she will tell him that the Harris name lives on through his son Macklin (Cathy) his grandsons Steven and Mark, and his three great grandsons Coleman, Clay, and Zachary Harris. A lost family was found because of the love of this great woman. We love her so. Her great niece, Christy Harris Broussard
