“ I only wish we could've through adulthood been the friends we talked about being as kids .As long as I can remember as a child , Candy was one of my very best friends. we shared so many fun times, school, sleepovers, birthday parties, cheerleading, movies with her Dad. the times were countless. Though after HS we lost touch I have never forgotten her. Since my kids were small I have shared fun stories I had with her, like how we use to think that the neighbors house was haunted when noone was home and the time went to the movies with her Dad, Candy sat on some sugarbabies and we had to go down into the scary basement bathroom alone, she had to take off her jeans to wash & dry all the sticky off them, we were all alone when a strange lady came in there, we ran up the stairs her putting her jeans back on.lol I hope Rich & Cheri you can smile with these memories too. She will always be in my heart. So sorry for your loss

Candy will always be remembered for wearing a pink sweater. He was sweet but full of spunk. She will be missed by all who knew her.
