“ Mrs. Painter was my favorite teacher ever! I had her in 1st grade at Bradley East. She made writing SO FUN. I recall that she used wall paper remnants to create covers for little books she made her class. Inside the cover were blank sheets of paper stapled inside which students could draw pictures and write to create their own little books. I felt like a legit author having my own "book." We did tons of these books throughout the course of the year. She also had us make comic strips. I still have one she laminated for us to use as placemats at home. I cannot believe how much one person inspired me to write and grew creativity and desire to learn. Thank you for what you gave your students Mrs. Painter! I nominated her for an award for Who's Who in America when I was in college, to honor her contribution to her students. God bless,

“ To the family of Carol Sue:
Upon life’s journey, there are special souls a person cross paths with. Carol Sue was one of those beautiful souls! She was truly a blessing received and It was a privilege to know her.
Though her spirit has departed from this life, she has impacted and left her imprint on others! What an amazing teacher she was. May God bless our lives with beautiful memories as we move forward. May God heal our hearts through this difficult time.

“ Carol Sue and I taught together at Bradley East for many years. She had a special energy about her that was very unique. You always knew when she was coming to pick up one of your students for reading instruction because you could hear her fast-pace click of her heels in the hallway. Carol Sue was known to wear patterned tights in a variety of colors. She was a wonderful colleague and friend who is missed by many. My prayers go out to her family.

“ I wanted to share a memory from working with Carol Sue at Bradley East. She always used a special and pretty plate for her lunch (usually a salad and probably some chocolate on the side). She wanted every moment to be special and wonderful and that is how she made everyone feel. Thinking of her family and friends. She will be missed by all those who had the pleasure of knowing her.

So very sorry to hear the news of Carol Sue's passing. I will always have great memories of the girls coming over for card club, and my mom (Daryl Arseneau) allowing my brother and I to stay up late and hang out with the girls. The Maxfield sisters were always our favorites! My mom and I wish we could be there to celebrate such a special lady. Love, Daryl Arseneau & Michelle Arseneau Gilhooly
