“ I have many memories of time spent in my Aunt and Uncles home. The fondest was the year they did some remodeling and I got to spend the whole day in the house with Aunt Carole making food, chatting and laughing. A bunch of us from the family were there to help and just visit and it was so good being in the same place in the warm summer weather instead of during the cold winter months when we usually got together. Aunt Carole taught me how to make Watergate Salad, such a simple thing, yet it was the words she spoke to me about her childhood and growing up on her farm and how she came to know about the things she could make and the things she found memorable about her past that made it special. She took the time to give me the gift of her memories and her skills and that will always be a treasure I hold dear to my heart. I always found my time with my Illinois family wonderful and it was hard for me to leave. I guess that is why I hid so many times when it was time to go. I will always think fondly of my Aunt Carole.

“ Thinking of you all. Carole's letters she would send to my Dad were always the best. Literally pages of what was going on in her world. It seems like they were always started at 4 a.m. or so! Funny stories, she had a way with words. All the animals at her place! What a menagerie! And her laugh! Some things you'll never forget!
