“ I remember when you and Grandpa took me to see my baby brother for the first time. I remember the butter cookies you had waiting for us when we visited. I remember the family Christmas parties with your decorations and the wonderful desserts. I remember you, Grandma. You are finally free and will find eternal peace and love. I will miss you.

“ *Aunt Connie,
I have several wonderful memories of time spent with you and Uncle Joe over the years. I will sorely miss your warmth, sense of humor, and good nature, as well as your gifts of handmade baby clothes for my children and grandchildren.
I know that while the past few years had been very difficult for you, you are no longer burdened by the physical and mental anguish you had unfortunately endured.
The world is a little less bright now that you are no longer here, but I am certain that your reunion with Uncle Joe and your family will be your eternal reward.
Terri and Renee (my sister from another mother), my heart goes out to you both.
Love, Robin*
