“ I really enjoyed playing softball with Dan and against him. He truly was a great competitor and I also had a good time umpire his games that he coached in for the little league. He was a really good guy and will be sadly missed. Dan you were a really good friend and I miss you buddy.

“ Dan was was one of the most selfless men I've ever met. He had a gift of making everything always about the other person, never himself. You might start talking about him, but he always managed to gently glide the conversation back to the other person. He was also my "birthday buddy." Every year on July 21st, we'd send each other birthday wishes.

When he found out he had cancer, knowing that I had gone through it too (breast cancer, though), he wrote to me on Facebook and wanted to know if I could give him any feedback. I told him to tell everyone and to have everyone pray for him. I also told him I believed in miracles. He wrote back, "Thanks so much. Just started on my colon and went into my liver. I am at peace and looking at all the wonderful things that god can do. Thanks so much. Whatever happens it is my prayer that I will be a witness for him."

Reading his words now brings tears to my eyes. He was a kind, gentle soul, who touched everyone he ever met. Every July 21, I'll miss receiving my birthday wishes from my birthday buddy. I pray God comforts his family. He was a good man.

“ Dan and I began our friendship by sitting next to each other at Central H.S. in a typing class. Yes, at times there was more laughing than typing. Dan was developing that puppy dog look and innocent voice that both kept him out of trouble and later in life made him so easy to talk to and trust. Later we worked together on the Mental Health Unit at Riverside. Dan was Christian in all he did for the clients and fellow staff. Of course sports had to be a part of his life then, too. He'd bring baseball cards to show and share with fellow staff and the children/adolescent clients. He also invited me to play in the Saturday morning church basketball league and on the church softball team.. This led to some wonderful fellowship and friendships. Dan NEVER gave up, even to the point of diving for ANY groundball. Dan would get down on himself immediately EVERY time he didn't get a hit, and call himself a hotdog. This passion was exemplified in all Dan did. This was most obvious in his passion for Christ, devotion to church, service to those in need and mental health clients, and in coaching. I saw Dan last summer at the ballpark and I teased that he and I are too old to coach. Dan's response was "they called me and needed somebody". That was Dan. I pray to God that Sue Ellen and family and all of us that are truly blessed by having Dan in our lives will find strength and peace and laughter as we remember and honor Dan's life.

“ The past few years, I have had the pleasure of getting to know Dan through his outreach with softball at River Valley. He had a passion for Christ, lived it each day and deeply loved his family. Several nights after practice or games we would chat as he was preparing for his night shift up north. He always had a smile, was well respected by his peers, and had an encouraging word for the guys when they would get down. He will be missed. A true gentleman, a leader and Christian brother - an example for us all. Our thoughts and prayers go out to you. Matt McAllister

“ Dan was our kids manager when they delivered the Daily Journal, he was always very kind and took good care of the kids. Now I work for The Herald Country Market newspaper and he and his wife Sue Ellen bring the journal to us. They are both two of the kindest people I have ever met. I am sad by his passing and will miss him everyday. Our thoughts and prayers go to the family. Dan was an extraordinary man. Dan and Teresa Hensley

“ It was a pleasure and an honor to work with Dan. I've been at Riverside 38 years and started on MHU 22 years ago. Seems like a LONG time ago yet seems like only yesterday. Dan was always so very easy going and so very well like but not only our patients but our staff. Dan always had something nice to say and it was just always a pleasure to be around him. We hated to see him leave the unit but it was more important for him to be happy. We have missed him since he left and he will be definitely missed even more now but I know that he is in a better place and smiling down on all of us. Many hugs and prayers to your family. Dan was one of the good ones!!!
