“Dave (a.k.a. Mongo) was a very good friend during my IWU years. Our antics at the TKE house were too numerous to mention and transcend the space allowable for this venue. Dave seemed omnipresent during our time together at both the TKE house and the IWU library, and through him, I met some people that became an unforgettable part of my life. My sincere condolences to your friends and family, David; it was my privilege to know you and you will most certainly be missed.”

“ I knew David a long time ago....high school. What always comes to my mind were our constant "battles" about English grades (he mostly won.) He made me strive to be a better student and a better person. He always had a ready laugh or smile, he could light up a room because of his "inner light." Now that he is in the light, it really is his time to SHINE. God's Speed on your journey dear David. May He take your family in His mighty arms and comfort them at this time.

“ Dave, you will always be Mongo to me. You were always there for all of us at the TKE house, you had the biggest heart of us all. The house would not have been the same without you, you were the backbone of that house as far as I was concerned. Rest in peace buddy, we'll miss you - YITB, Ding.
