“ Our prayers are with Liz and the family at this most difficult time.

People often refer to someone's "passing" as "we have lost a loved one". Take comfort in knowing that Don is not "lost". We all know that sweet, talented, gentle spoken man is in Heaven with all of our other "cherished" loved ones who have "passed" before us.

We know Don is in Heaven without pain and worry now and his long, "brave battle" shows us that the "will and love to live" far surpassed anyone's expectations. "HERE'S TO YOU DON, FOR A JOB WELL DONE!" We love you and will miss you terribly.###imported-begin###Murill & Celia Calbert###imported-end###

“ I recall the early days while attending church together as families. God brought us all far. He remains faithful. Don always displayed a kind heart to me as a young man. The family reflected it as well. My late Mom & Dad would agreed. God bless you all & may His presence be felt in the days ahead.
