“ I will miss my little Guy very much. He used to live in another apartment that his view was only rocks. When he moved upstairs to another apartment, I went out and picked a rock and wrote on it "Guys rock garden". He kept that rock on his kitchen counter for years. I always tried to make him smile everyday. We talked a lot about all kinds of things. His children, wife, grandkids, and all the places he lived at one time. I would sit and visit with him by his table in his room. He could be grumpy, but he was sweet grumpy to me. I will miss taking care of him greatly. I thank him and his family for sharing a part of his life with me. I will always remember him and like I told him the day he went home to Jesus...."I will see you again." You can now walk with no problems. I Love you Guy!
