“ Ira and I dated for three years and he was someone I truly cared about. He loved to go to Las Vegas and gamble. That was his favorite place to go. He loved to collect Hot Wheel cars. He was a very out spoken man and that was one of the things I liked about him. He truly loved his boys. He was a good person. He loved to go on "ebay" and bid on Hot Wheels and Army Men. He also like to collect real lead army men. He was a kid at heart. I'm shocked that he is gone and we will never see him again. He was definitely a car enthusiast and always took care of his vehicles. We use to take rides in his "76" or "77" Pontiac with the eagle on the hood and that car could go fast and he loved to put the pedal to the medal when we went on those country roads. Those were some good times. Ira could strike up a conversation with just about anyone, he was very outgoing. Anytime we were out and about he always new someone and they were always happy to see him. Even though we didn't work out he will always have a special place in my heart. He's up in Heaven harassing everyone up there. "RIP" Ira.

“ I only knew Ira for a short time, but in that time we became great friends.....Life is a funny thing, we only knew each other from our jobs, he drove truck and i am a shipping clerk, but in this short time we talked about family, friends and companions, we also shared our bad days, good days and way back days of growing up.....He would be here every morning picking up with a great Smile and kind words, he would talk about his week and the weekend, we both liked to collect things, we both shared our yard sale and flea market findings and would laugh discussing how we were going to get rich, LOL..... He told me about his vacation out west and how he wished he would of drove his Charger, i just laughed and said " yea when your in a little coupe no babes pay attention, if you would of drove the Charger they all would want to climb in", he replied you think with this enormous SMILE, I will always remember IRA, each and every day of my life, it was an honor to know such a man, God Bless the family and ease there pain, by knowing how much there father was loved and how many people he left with great memories, sincerley Charlotte Neeley

“ Met Ira in either 1969 or 1970 in high school, hung around on and off, Would run into him later in life, always felt better after we talked. Great guy, always upbeat, told me about his truck driving life, Wish I could have run into him more often. Liked to gamble as I remember and was pretty good at it. Rest in peace Ira and may God bless your soul.

“ The first time Ira came to one of our "family" get togethers, I thought he found Heaven! About 30 plus people were at moms having thanksgiving and he came down and played poker with us! I believe he finally left at 2 am when he realized we weren't done taking each other's money! He loved coming down and seeing our huge family and fit right in!
He will always be remembered for his jokes, laughter, and tales of him Ricky and all the other truckers causing trouble on the roadways!
Rest In Peace Ira! Your long haul is over now it's a short trip to Gods palace!

“ Ira & I were loading 2 -20 ft rail containers in Detroit Michigan on our flatbed semi's back in 2005 when we both were tieing our containers down all a sudden I hear a load noise , then Ira was yelling for me to come over too his semi too discover him laying on the ground pouring blood out of his forehead because the cheater pipe he was using on the snap - binder slipped off hitting himself in the forehead n breaking his nose !!! We had to go to the hospital to get him stitched back up before we could come back to Elwood Illinois for delivering our loads !!!! If anyone knows how stubborn Ira was about spending a few dollars on new equipment he finally broke down and bought new ratcheting binders when we were leased onto Bertram Trucking
