“ Coach taught me to play with a fire in my belly and a love for the game! He also taught me about good sportsmanship and basically set a great example for being a decent human being. I loved him and especially loved his good natured teasing & feistiness. I always loved running into Jim and Vicki through the years and catching glimpses of their lives and them taking the time to catch up with me. One of my fondest memories came when they were there for our family when we lost Dave. Selfless and giving ...just their presence in the moment gave me a sense that everything was going to be alright. That's love and the epitome of compassion! May you all remember how many lives he touched and how long he will live on in the hearts and minds of those he encountered. A life well lived!
