“ Jim worked with my dad, Bob Costanza, at Gould. I remember my dad talking about Jim and I could tell that he really enjoyed working with him. I ran into into your Dad somewhere several months ago and I introduced myself (again as it had been many years) and he was as nice as ever especially when I mentioned my dad's name.

I am terribly sorry for your loss. He seemed to be a fine person and it sounds as though he loved his family a great deal.

“ I remember the time I visited Grandpa Potter at the hospital and in his room that had no windows he farted. I could not breath it was so bad, I had to walk out of the room and into the hallway, but that did not help. Soon after exiting the room, I passed out and fell onto the floor. I love you Grandpa. Agree Leo, at the very least he was a loveable at times, one of a kind, cantankerous character that I got along with very well at Gould & also when he bartended at Fortins.
