Ed knew Janet when she was with Johnny. I met you a few times. You were always a great mother. You took care of your family very well, even thru the tough times, you kept your chin up. Rest in Peace now, and be the guardian angel that your children need. They are as strong as you are..... Gos Bless you all...

“ Janet was my half sister, we grew up together and lived under the same roof for many, many years. It must have been a sight with 11 of us in the 63 Bel Air. Our dad, my mom and Ma in the front seat with Janet and Dorothy on their laps. Don, Ron and Wayne in the back seat with Jack, Rusty and myself on their laps. What a scream. We shared lots of laughs, and tears and stories and adventures, happy times and some of the saddest times families have to go through. But that's what makes it family. And your family will always keep you in our hearts, our thoughts and our prayers. Justine and Christine, you must remain strong, close and always there for each other and your children. Keep the circle unbroken. So long my little sister. Your life was full of trials and tribulations, not unlike anyone else, but I know the obstacles you had to overcome and the hardship you endured. To say that life treated you unfairly doesn't even begin to scratch the surface. But you were always a survivor and that's what makes saying goodbye even harder. it was always 'hang in there Janet' and you always did. Enjoy heaven because you had enough hell on earth little sister. God bless you. I miss you and love you. Peace, all our love Patrick, Rosemarie and Katrina Martinez

“ Even though Janet was my cousin, I always thought of her and her brothers as my sister and brothers. I remember when we were waiting for Wayne to come home from the Navy and she told me a scarey story. It was the one that scared me so much I never wanted to stay alone at night. When I went over to their apartment she had a doll that was called Sad Eyes. It was so scarey I use to make her put it in the closet and she thought that was so funny. I will miss you Janet. I hope that you girls (Justine and Christine) will stay in contact with each other and be good to each other. Our deepest symphathy goes out to Janet's girls, grandchildren, great grandchildren and brothers Don and Wayne. Janet will be missed. Remember though that we will all see each other again some day and God has taken her so she will no longer have to suffer in this life.

We love you all, Dorthy and Wes Stambaugh and family

“ I remember Janet coming with Uncle Ralph out to our farm in Wilmington and swimming in our swimming pool when she was 5 or 6 years old. I would like to offer my symathies to her children, and her brothers Wayne and Don. I am sorry that I will not be able to make the visitation and funeral because I have to work.
