“ Dear Altmyer Family,

 I½I am so sorry to hear of the death of your dear Wife and Mother. I½Mom just sent me the news and I had many memories come to me. I½Your family was such a nice family to have in the neighborhood. I½I think the memory that made one of the biggest impression on me was when your Dad butchered a chicken, right there in town. I½I had never seen such a thing when he cut that head off... I½I guess the memory reminds me of what an important part your parents had on our family.. I½Seeing how you children have grown into having a close walk with God is a tribute to the fact that God was inportant to your parents. I½We don't always understand fully what Jesus means to us but the lives that you are leading show that you are seeking Him. I½Mom always looks forward to your news at Christmas time. I½Keep her on your mailing list so that we can continue to see how God is working in your lives.

May God give you the strength to go through this valley and come out stronger on the other side.

Your friend,

“ Dear Doug, sons, Steve and Jeff; daughters, Laurie and Mary, spouses, sisters, brother, grandchildren and extended family,

Gene joins me in extending sympathy to you each and all of you at the loss of Joyce.

As an old Our Lady Academy student, I have bright memories of Joyce, an "upperclassman" who was always friendly, never lorded it over us "freshies".

Starting way back, Gene and I both had dear happy Sister Amiee (Benoit) SSCM as our third grade teacher. When I met Joyce, it was like being in the sunshine of Sr. Aimee--the Benoit quality (?), a few more years up the academic road.

Joyce and I shared many a short chat in her years at the Bradley Libray where she was known for her helpful, cheerful disposition. I like to think it had to do partly with being of the old French Canadian strain...?

You have an advocate in Heaven, there is no doubt.

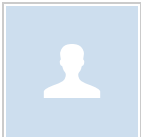

Thinking of you as you merge your sadness with Celebration of Joyce's life that is your personal and rich legacy.

Sincerely,

The Wilkeys, out Rockville way
