“ Judy was the champagne of life as a young lady. She brought bubbly laughter in to every room and to everyone who met her. From the early days in Aroma Park, she was the object of many a young man's affections. Judy was actually too good for most of them, but she never acted that way, nor did she ever crush any of her would-be suitors. She had a special kind of class that would drive her to find a young man who would earn his place by her side. She found him and he was---by her side-- through it all. She was a pretty good judge of character--don't you think?

Our Love and prayers to you all,who loved her.

“ Some are here for but a moment Then are taken in an instant to eternity Remember life and what's been shared with you
That you have shared It's funny
how we feel closer
With the ones that we love
When they're farthest away
You can feel them so near Just 'round the corner the memory still clear After the song is over The dance goes on, so dance away
When all is said and done Remember
what's been given, not taken away
