“ I was fortunate enough to meet Kay through my life-long friend and Kay's dear friend, Carla Kline-Vala. We all met up at Kay's in Bourbonnais before the BBCHS reunion last year to share a few laughs and get ready. What a joy she was to get to know. The pictures in her home a beautiful tribute to the family that she so obviously loved and adored. She was full of pride and joy when speaking of them. How fortunate you all were to have someone that felt so deeply for you. I am so sorry for your great loss. Hopefully her beautiful heart and smile will be your comfort at this time and always. Let it keep you close, as life is so fragile and precious.

I wish I had been the one to take the pictures that night to remember her by, because she brightened everyone's memories that night. I only wish I had the chance to have known her better.

I truly found her warm and charming and full of smiles. My heartfelt prayers to you all that knew and loved this lovely lady.##imported-begin##Cindy (Stearns) O'Connor##imported-end##

“ Dear Jenna and Jessica years ago you made a trip to Switzerland with Kay and Harry to visit us. We had a lot of fun and enjoyed your company.

Afterward we lost the contact.

I liked your mom so much, like my best friend. My english was so bad, but she always new what I wanted to say.

We were sisters in mind.

By accident I found the bad news in the net.

We would like to say that our thoughts are with you.

Please call or write us.

“ She had me at "hello." The sweet little freshman in high school looked like a sweetheart in my classroom at BBCHS.

And she was. Years later, in a parent open house, I met her again. The darling teen had become the beautiful lady...who introduced herself as the mother of one of my students. Surely not, I thought. She cannot be old enough. Then, with really, really great pride, she said, "I am Jessica Nordmeyer's mother." That fits, I thought. Jessica had me at hello, too. Then, we gushed. Hugs later, I met Jenna. Same. Then, we gushed more. I guess there is probably a way to let Kay's precious family know....what joy I knew in knowing them...what a real honor it was for me to be in the same room with so much genetic wonderful.

But, what I will remember most...is Kay's love for her children...and their love for her....which always made me see something far beyond the beautiful and into the world of pure "awesome" from the first hello.

My heartfelt sympathy my dears....now and always.

love,

Lana Weiss Brown
