“ Kaylee was the best friend a girl could ask for. She knew how to have fun. She had a laugh that made u want to tickle her all day. And she had the cutest little hands. She was one of my very best friends. She was there for me at a very rough time in my life. And we made many many memories together. I will never ever forget her. She was sweet, caring, and strong.

“ I had the pleasure of being your teacher for both 4th and 5th grade! I remember when you were in 4th grade and you asked me to go to the movies with you, and so we went to the movies! You were such a sweet and kind kid to have in class. Sending a big hug to your mom. I could always tell how much she loved, cared for you, and wanted the best for you.

“ Kaylee,

I can't seem to wrap my mind around the fact that you're gone. There is nothing I regret more than not keeping in touch as much as I should have. I'll never forget the countless hours we spent together gossiping about things we once thought were life or death, the hundreds of sleep overs just so we could lay around and do absolutely nothing, the time we went to six flags for your birthday and I ended up so sick from the rides or the time we went skinny dipping in my pool with Allison, Alex and Erika. We thought we were such rebels!

You were always there for me whether you actually wanted to be or not. I'm so sorry for losing touch and not being there for you when you needed someone most. I truly hope you're in paradise right now with no more pain because you deserve more than anything.

“ Kaylee...

I just can't believe you're gone. There is so much of me that regrets losing touch with you. You were such an amazing, caring, selfless person, and an even more amazing friend. I'm gonna miss our deep conversations about the world and life and why things are the way they are. We had so much fun together... tubing on the river and losing our car keys. Sopping wet walking into Ryan's Pier to use the phone to call your dad for a ride home. Dancing our butts off at BBQ fest and not being able to find where we parked afterwards. Sleepovers and staying up all night watching Breaking Bad and The Walking Dead. Hanging out at Glad Fest and catching up with all of our friends from school... That embarrassing fall I took watching Black Cadillac when I landed on Ryan and he caught me. Teaching you how to hula hoop. We had so many good times together... I can't think of any bad. No arguments, except for when we stopped talking. I wish I would have believed you back then. Things could have been so different. Maybe this wouldn't have happened. Maybe I could have saved you Kaylee... When we weren't together, we were constantly texting, snap chatting, or video calling each other on Skype. You seriously were ALWAYS there for me and I was there for you. You were my rock when things weren't working out, you were my shoulder when I needed someone to lean on, you made me laugh when I wanted to cry. You treated Declan like he was one of your family members. You even helped me find a house to buy. Most importantly you have to know that you were so important to me. You being my best friend was so important to me. And I never realized how great our friendship was until it ended... and now it's too late...

I don't know what happened between then and now. And I'm not sure I'll ever know. But just know I think about you often when I hear songs on the radio that remind me of that Summer. When I look thru pictures and I can pinpoint where we were or what we were doing. I'm devastated that you're gone and I wish I would've set the bullshit aside sooner. I'm sorry Kaylee. For letting you down and not being there when you needed someone, like you were there for me.

Rest in paradise, love. You deserve that.
