“ I started walking Lake Murray over five years ago, and was immediately befriended by Ken and Luke-2, who knew and were beloved by just about everyone on the walking trail. Ken always made the time to stop and talk, while Luke-2 gently nudged him toward the nearest shady spot. Our handshakes soon evolved into hugs (and MANY vigorous behind-the-ear scratches for Luke-2), and each conversation was invariably uplifting.

Ken and Luke-2 are two kindred, gentle souls, and it was truly a privilege to have been welcomed into their Lake Murray family.

I can't imagine Lake Murray with Ken and Luke-2, and will miss them both terribly. May Luke-2 enjoy his new community as much as San Diego/Lake Murray, and may Ken rest in peace.

Photo from Lake Murray today. I don't know the person who set up the lovely memorial, but am so thankful to have come upon it.

“ I practically grew up in Kens backyard. Spent all summer every summer with his son Scott. He was a great guy and will be missed.

“ Ken was a fixture at Lake Murray, he and Luke greeted everyone each morning with a warm smile and hello. His positive light will be missed by us all, my condolences to his family. ❤️
