“ I delivered mail to Ken's home from 87-04 and got to know him very well, he was quite a character. He was a very accomplished interesting guy, and I always enjoyed listening to his stories, and to this day, still find myself passing them on to my friends. Unfortunately after I retired and moved out of state I was never able to see him again, but he remains a good memory, & ranks right up there as one of my all-time favorite mail customers.
