“ I used to take care of Joyce at the nursing home where most of us called her “momma Joyce” because she really was everyone’s momma . She tried to take care of all of us even though we were there to take care of her! I shared countless cups of morning coffee and toast with her and she was always ready to dance! Joyce never failed to make every shift I worked worth while and was always making people smile! Momma Joyce will be greatly missed .
