“ Anita, I just learned of your mother's passing tonight. I had been watching the papers but somehow missed it. It was so good to visit with you just a few weeks ago in the grocery store. Please know that I send my sympathy to you. I know you will miss her but she is in a much better place now with your father. Please know that I will pray for you and your family. Phyllis Manker

“ Anita, I am sorry to have just read about your mother. I know it must be bitter sweet. She is at peace now but I know she will be dearly missed.
Your mother truly made my wedding day beautiful and soooo memorable. I know the hard work that went in to every stitch of my dress and my attendants. She was such a talented lady. I remember as a child walking up those steps of the wedding center for all of my sisters weddings and looking at all the beautiful dresses she had or was in the process of making. The shoes, jewelry, purses etc.... It was like princess land. I never felt more beautiful than on my wedding day and all because of her. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family.
