“ Kay, I just discovered this and, though late, I want to send you and your children Scott and my most sincere sympathy on the death of Lou. Both of you, and your children, brought such joy into my family's life. Paul and Jeanie and I have wonderful memories of the many get togethers our families shared, and a lot of them were made memorable by the sing-a-longs with you and Lou. My parents adored the two of you and shared their enthusiasm with us. As for me, you and Lou and "little Lou" form my very earliest memories of walks in carriages down Birdsall Ave., heading to afternoon fun in Memorial Park. It was an honor, too, to have had you and Lou at Scott's and my wedding in downtown Chicago, way back in 1975. As a matter of fact it seemed important to me that you were there as you both were so memorable to me. I remember Lou as a wonderful man; warm and giving and kind. The two of you were a couple I will always remember for your shared grace and love for each other. I imagine that he will be remembered fondly and missed greatly by many; especially you and your family. I send my most sincere sympathy, along with Scott's, to you all.
With love from,
Sandra (Kott) Stevenson
