“ Mark... you are missed. I have many fond memories of our years together as friends and rivals at Saint Joseph's College. You will always be remembered as the "smartest guy", a classic iconoclast, and an unbridled enthusiast of history, tennis, the Olympics, and sports in general.

I appreciated our chess and running rivalries, and the generosity of your family in Kankakee when you put us up the night before the Salkeld and Sons 10K run.

I'll never forget your mischievous smile and your monotone singing voice when belting out "Carry on Wayward Son" by Kansas.

I enjoyed the way you balanced the drudgery of our studying sessions at Halleck Center with occasional interruptions of hangman on the whiteboard.

Sorry that we didn't stay in better touch in our post-college years... Life's immediate challenges sometimes make us forget about the people who matter to us most.

My condolences to the Salkeld family and to all who are feeling the void left by Mark's passing.

“ This is heartbreaking. Our families grew up next door to each other. We had countless hours playing in the streets and each others' yards. I remember always, Mark was giving a play-by-play with a pretend microphone. He brought so much joy and happiness.

“ To Mark's Children and Family - my sincere condolences. I'm sorry I could not make it down to Mark's funeral. Mark was a great mentor to me in my first few years of practice, but he was an even better friend. I loved talking history and sports with Mark, and his wit and sense of humor were always on, even these last few years as his health grew worse. The world was a much better place with Mark in it. I will miss him dearly.

“ I worked with Mark about 20 years ago. He was a wonderful, compassionate and kind man who was a great lawyer. His young children at the time were his top priority. He will be missed by many. Rest in peace, Mark.
