“ Brian, Angela, and family,
We are at a loss for words. We had so many wonderful times together during all the sports years. Marsha was such a wonderful caring person, always so friendly whenever we ran into her in later years. We pray God guides you through the journey ahead. We are here for you. 🧡💜🙏

“ I lived diagonally across the street from the Haggards in Bourbonnais for almost 2 decades and have very fond memories of my time living on Rivard Drive. One grade school memory involved a a brief crush I had on Marsha. One day, I was at their house, probably playing basketball or something with her brother, and she was hanging out with some of her girlfriends. They wrote a note on her behalf asking if I would go out with her by circling 'yes, no or maybe'. I circled 'yes'. Marsha, clearly embarrassed, grabbed the note from her friends and wrote a smaller 'yes' then had her friends deliver it. I circled 'yes' again and Marsha continued to write 'yes' smaller and smaller until it was just a dot. Before I knew it, only 'No' was left as my only choice. :)
Needless to say, my crush was crushed right there and then, ha!
