“ To

Dino, Robin, & Stacy

I loved Sue very much. I tried to remember her birthday each year and I always looked forward to receiving a Christmas card from her each year. I know that mama will miss her very much. She and I had planned on coming up to see Sue this year, but the time just got away from us. We will be down at mama's on Christmas day - later in the afternoon. Will you be there then? I hope you can stay the weekend. Love to you all and your families,

“ In times like this, of sadness and sorrow, we need to reflect back on happy times to help our hearts find comfort. As kids, we knew each other but as we became adults, time and distance got in the way but Sue never failed to keep in touch in some way. I always knew I would get that Christmas card from her every year and in each of those cards, the aunt that I knew as a kid was still there. I'll miss her and that card.

Robin, Dino, Stacey... Look back on those happy times with your Mom and smile. Find comfort in knowing that she's with our Heavenly Jesus and rejoicing with Mamaw & Papaw with a smile on her face.

Please know that you guys are in my thoughts and prayers.

Love, Tammy##imported-begin##Tammy Brazel##imported-end##

“ Sue was a very strong Christian woman who was very instrumental in leading me to Christ many years ago, and I am so thankful for that. She loved her children and grandchildren very much and she talked of that love for them in many conversations that we had. I am so sorry for Robin, Deno and Stacey, but she really is enjoying her heavenly home where she always knew she would be someday. Her friends will always remember her smile and her Godly spirit.

Sue is finally at rest.

“ Robin, I am so sorry for your loss, I wish there was something I could do or say to soothe you and your family at this difficult time in i½your lives. Please take comfort in knowing that your mother is at peace and is with our beloved Jesus, and is no longer in pain. She is probably rejoicing right now. You will see her again, and when you do, it will be wonderful, as she will no longer be in pain or sick at all.

“ Dear Mom,

I am sorry I didn't make it there to see you in time before you passed away. I know you tried to wait for me, but you just didn't have the strength left to stay around any longer. It's ok, Mom, I understand that you couldn't wait and I know you will forgive me for not being there with you at the time when you left this world to be with God. I saw you at the funeral home and I held your hand and stroked your hair and touched your face and I know in my heart that you knew I was there with you then. I will love you forever Mom and I will think about always and miss you terribly, but I know you are in a better place. I am sad for me and all of us who will miss you but I am not sad for you because I know you are not suffering anymore. Your pain is gone and you are with God and finally at peace. You will be in my heart and thoughts always. I love you Mom.
