“Michelle was such a special person. She was an advocate for students and fellow educators. She brought a love of reading to her students because she taught from her heart. Her love of reading was contagious. The bonds she made will never be broken. She lit up every room with her presence. Her quick wit and wonderful sense of humor gave even the most dull meeting a sense of fun. Fearless, she always stood up for what was right. Gone too soon, she will truly be missed. The angels got a good one this time. Rest in peace. May memories be of comfort to her friends and family.
