

Nancy M Capps

October 1, 1954 - December 11, 2024

Nancy Moctezuma Capps (Hynes), born October 1st, 1954, passed away on December 11th, 2024, at the age of 70. She lived in Bourbonnais with her husband Terry Capps and dog Georgie. Survived by her nephews Nicholas and Michael Dusenbury. Nancy, the daughter of Luisa and Julio and sister to Elsa, grew up in Chicago with her many primas/cousins. She attended high school at Cathedral High School, got her undergraduate at Columbia College and earned her masters degree from Roosevelt University. She had a rich and varied career, highlights of which were her years at Leo Burnett as a producer, her work on the Sydney Pollack film Havana, and as director of marketing at IRI.

Nancy lived life with no regrets. She was passionate, determined, gracious, strong, a forever optimist, and generous. Nancy would always say “life is short” and she lived life to the fullest. She loved to travel, cook and host. Nancy brought people together like ingredients in a recipe. She was an engaging story teller, had a great memory for details, and one felt like they knew everyone in her circle even if they’d never met them. Nancy was loyal and befriended everyone she met. With Nancy one knew they were loved. She offered unwavering support to those she believed in. Nancy will be missed greatly by many.
