“ Pat Anderson and I were high school classmates but were not necessarily close friends. She was always friendly to me. She married Larry Dupuis who grew up across the street from me and Don Genschaw and I were elementary school friends. I grieve with you, the family, in your loss and trust that your happy memories of your mom will sustain you in this time of grief. It saddens me to see my former classmates going on before me but am happy to be able to note their passing in this electronic age. I think the last time I saw Pat was at our 64th class reunion. Again, my sincere condolences
