“ One night while caring for Aunt Pat, I got a bad case of hiccups. She looked at me and said take a drink of water, that will get rid of those hiccups. I replied I did, it has not helped. She then said hold your breath for awhile, in which I replied did that, did not work. Then she looked at me with one of those sheepish grins and said would you like me to scare you then, I started to laugh and replied with your voice right now I don't think you could scare a mouse let alone my hiccups. We both busted into a good belly laugh until tears were rolling down our cheeks. I will truly miss her antics and her scoldings, but I know deep down she loved my family and me. My thoughts and love are for the people she loved the most, Uncle C.J., Vicki, Dan, Allison, and Jennifer. May God hold them close to him during this time of grief.
