He was born on April 2, 1923 and he was raised in Hillsdale, New Jersey. He graduated high school in 1942 and joined the Navy. After discharge from the Navy he married his sweetheart and settled in Hillsdale, New Jersey, moving to Blue Island, Illinois in 1966. His work history includes Thermo Electric and Western Electric. It was just before his ship left the US for the Pacific that he had a chance meeting with a beautiful young girl, Mary Jane, from Blue Island, Illinois. She became his "pen pal" during his time overseas. Then after his honorable discharge from the Navy 2 years later, he was reunited with her. They married in June 1946 at St. Donatus Church in Blue Island, Illinois. He spoke often in later years about the battles that his LSM311 was part of, most significantly the battle at Leyte Gulf, Philippines. Ray had a strong love for the people of the Philippines. He single handedly raised enough money to build a house in Arteche, Philippines. In 2008 he began a dear friendship with JoJo Sayson, who is from the Philippines, and together they shared many stories and good times making memories and plans. He continued to share his stories about his service time and pretty much any and everything before and after. His life was full. He loved the outdoors, hiking, fishing and boating. He loved his canoe that he bought when he was 9 years old. Last year he had the pleasure of paddling the canoe in Manteno Lake. The canoe was refurbished and launched in a special ceremony honoring Ray by Project Headspace and Timing founder, Eric Petersen. He was an avid runner after heart surgery for many years. He loved playing with his grandchildren and great grandchildren. What he loved to do best was singing. Raymond was a very active member of numerous organizations. He was a lifetime honorable member of the American Legion Post #755 where he served as Chaplain for several years. He was a lifetime member and 4th degree Knight of the Knights of Columbus #11358 where he served as Warden. He was a lifetime member of the LSM/LSMR ASSOCIATION where he served as Chaplain. He attended an Honor Flight, along with many other WWII Veterans from the Pacific, on a special occasion debuting the movie, the Pacific. He was an over 20-year volunteer at the Manteno Veterans Home where he was cantor for the weekly Catholic Service and visited with his fellow Veterans. Most recently he was involved in Project Headspace and Timing, headed up by his dear friend, Eric Peterson and was planning events to raise money for homeless veterans.

“ We only knew Ray during the last few years of his life but we feel very blessed to have met him. He was a sweet guy and we enjoyed his cheerful demeanor. His concern for veterans was clear and admirable. His love for singing was easily seen. We will keep him and all his family in our prayers. We know that God will bless him.
Sincerely,

“ He took the first seat on the bus. I smiled at him and that twinkle in his eyes got me right away....he reminded me of my own dad. I was in charge of the HBO Pacific Chicago group for Honor Flight. There were 63 WWII Veterans from Chicago but Ray took my heart away. We talked together, sat, ate, together. He shared some of his war stories with me and talked about his wonderful Jane. He and the others were honored at the WWII Memorial in Washington DC by Tom Hanks, Stephen Spielberg, Elizabeth Doyle and many other dignitaries. They saw a preview of the documentary. Ray made friends with everyone. He got everyone singing on the bus rides to and fro. We've stayed in touch since. My husband and I visited him in Manteno and had lunch with Ray, Jane and their lovely family. I love this gentle loving man. There aren't many like him. My heart goes out to the Olley family who have lost both parents. All I can say is....those hundreds of wonderful memories will give you peace. Love and Hugs to all of you.
