“ Dear Family and Friends,

 I am very sorry to hear about your recent loss. Death can be an extremely hard situation to deal with. Today I am volunteering my time to write to those who have lost loved ones to bring some comfort and hope for the future. Being such an avid reader and church member I bet Shirley loved the Bible. A lot of people wonder what happens to our loved ones when they die. The Bible tells us that they are sleeping, and gives a wonderful promise to those mourning the situation. John 5:28 and 29 says, "All those in the memorial tombs will hear (Jesus') voice and come out..." Isn't that a comforting thought to know that God promises all to a resurrection where we will be reunited with our family again. I enjoyed sharing these thoughts with you. My deepest sympathy and condolences are with your family in this hard time. If you would like to know more about God's promise for the future please write to the e-mail address above. Thank you for your time.

“ You have our sympathy and prayers.

May the love of friends and your family in Christ bless your hearts at this time. May the "God of All Comfort" embrace you with His loving compassion and may you feel and know His presence is with you and bring you assuring peace.
