“ To the family of Mrs. Deagan,

I fondly remember Mrs. Deagan from my 6th grade English/Lit class. She was a substitute for Mrs. Miller's class. Mrs. Deagan seemed at first a little scared of our class. She became our permanent teacher and I was so thrilled to have her. In the middle of the year she was becoming ill. I remember when she told us that she was taking a 1/2 day off and wouldn't be there the next day. She returned a few weeks later to tell us she was diagnosed with a tumor . I felt really sad for her and prayed that the tumor would leave. As a teacher she was very caring and thoughtful. Even though she was going through a rough time ,she still had a smile on her face. At open house last year my parents and I stopped in to say hello. She remembered us and we were so glad to see her looking well.

Mrs. Deagan was a wonderful teacher who would spend quality time talking with you about any problem. She gave of the heart, which was her nature. I will always remember the wonderful teacher and friend she was to me. I will miss you. My prayers go out to her two children and husband.

God Bless You All.

“ Hello,

 My name is Matthew White and I was a substitute teacher for her when she was first diagnosed. We had a lot of substitutes and I know for a fact because we wanted our teacher back. I saw her occasionally at school and always greeted you warmly. there will always be a place in my heart for her. I still leads me in the right path to fulfill my upcoming career as a musician. I am praying for you and your family.

“ I've known Stacie since we were 5 years old. ½I had the pleasure of being her friend for 35 years and I will always treasure that.
½The tears are streaming down my face as I write this because I moved away from her in the middle of her battle. ½She came to my house the night before I moved to Florida & we shared some time together - for that I will always be thankful! ½I spoke to her a few months ago & she was very frustrated with her condition.
½But I NEVER lost hope! ½Now I get the terrible news of her passing & I'm so saddened. ½I know her concern was for her children & not watching them grow up. ½That's so unfair!
½We've all suffered a great loss in losing such a wonderful person. ½My heart aches for her family.

I wanted to be there to pay my respects but could not make it so please know - ½I'm there in my thoughts!

GOD BLESS YOU!!!!!!!!!!!!

“ I met Stacie when she would come for diagnostic tests at CDI. She always had a smile on her face, even when feeling poorly. She spoke with so much love about her children. I had the great privilege to walk a lap with her at Relay for Life and will always have a special place in my heart for her. My prayers will continue to be with her family. God bless you.##imported-begin##Nickie Snyder##imported-end##

“ Stacie is such a wonderful person. She was always so positive, caring and sweet. I always loved speaking to her. When I saw her at Bible study I recognized her immediately. She looked just as good as she did last time I had seen her which had been many years. Then when we talked it was just like old times. I will always remember Stacie and all of her wonderful qualities. I know she is with God and she will be looking over her family and friends.##imported-begin##Cindy Regas##imported-end##

“ Tears are sometimes an inappropriate response to death. When a life has been lived completely honestly, completely successfully, or just completely, the correct response to death's perfect punctuation mark is a smile.

What the caterpillar calls the end of the world, the master calls a butterfly.

We grieve because we miss the company of the one we loved. i; ½We miss touching them and sharing the journey together.

 You can shed tears that she is gone or you can smile because she has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that she'll come back or you can open your eyes and see all she's left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see her or you can be full of the love you shared.

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember her and only that she's gone or you can cherish her memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind, be empty and turn your back i; ½or you can do what she'd want: smile, open your eyes, love and go on.###imported-begin###David Duff###imported-end##

“ Stacie used to be a member at Body Works Fitness Center from 1990 to 2000, She attended my 9:00 a.m. class and would bring Ryan and Madison into our daycare, She was such a soft spoken, considerate person, even when I ran into Her not to long ago at Jewel, with all that she had going on she was asking about my Family. Your Family is in my Families heart and prayers.

“ Lindsey,

I just came across this obituary as I was looking for somebody else. I am so terribly sorry to read about your loss as well as the loss to your children. I haven't seen you in so, so many years, but still remember our walks home from school. May God bless you and your children. My prayers are with you and the rest of the Deagan family.
