“ I am very sadden to hear the news of Steve's passing. He was such a sweet, kind man.

Steven, Stephanie and Brittany every time I mentioned your names and asked your dad how one of you were doing, his eyes would sparkle and his face would just glow with pride. I knew he was a very special dad because when I would come and get him for a procedure, there would be one, two and most times all three of you kids there to support him and make sure he recovered from his procedure. We would pick at each other. When I would bring the patient cart over to get him he would say " I want another driver or its you again", and start to giggle. I would always tell him I was gonna trim a little of his mustache off. It was a joy for me to have known him and be his nurse and a friend. Since life has to go on, I won't get to see that sparkle in his eyes, but when I speak of him there will be a sparkle in my eyes. Your family will always have a special place in my heart forever. I am sorry for your heavy hearts. I am thinking and praying for you.

“ Your family is in our thoughts and prayers. Where to start with such a wonderful man. Steve's trademark his beard I can honest say I never knew a man prouder of a beard than Steve. His love so easy his wonderful wife Lisa together a family of three children. Years passed and grandchildren arrived how proud he was of those little ones. Don't forget his dogs he often would stop in the middle of Mainstreet to talk a minute and I tease him about his "pretty girl" riding shotgun. He would say don't know what I do without her and laugh his laugh. What a sports nut! Not to many people I have known in my life would have sat in a gym and watch his kids play basketball with his radio earplugs in to listen to the same game on WGFA. Steve was a joker he had such a sense of humor even when he was in the worst pain you could image. He cared about his neighbors and supported his community if you needed something and if there was anyway to make it happen Steve would. Most of all You knew how much Steve loved his family because he was a fighter he fought a long tough fight. He leaves behind a lot of wonderful memories with so many people who were lucky enough to have crossed paths with him. Steve my friend rest in peace you will be greatly missed. Butch and Dawn Brault
