“ I really miss hearing Tom on the radio. I know that WVLI will have a very hard time replacing him. I really enjoyed his knowledge and insight into the artist and the songs that he played. I will also miss him saying "if you are listening to me at home thanks for tuning in and if you are listening to me in the car thanks for taking me for the ride". I took him for the ride quite alot. I even took him for the ride when I drove for charity fund raisers, this was the most that I listened and he really made the ride easier. My job truly was more enjoyable thanks to him. I really want to thank him for the rides. My prayers are with you and I hope that you find comfort in all who enjoyed him. Again I thank him for the ride.##imported-begin##Mrs. Joann R. “ One of the first things we discovered when we moved to Bourbonnais two years ago was Tommy's " In the Mood" radioprogram on Sunday nights. It was such a pleasure to sit on our patio and listen to the wonderful music. Tommy's vast knowledge and obvious love of music was apparent each week. “ Tommy will be sorely missed. ĩ½He was a terrific radio personality. ĩ½His taste in music was terrific. ĩ½In the past, we met Tommy and his wife on a train excursion from Chicago to Galesburg, and we enjoyed getting to personally have this contact with Tommy and his wife. ĩ½We remember how excited Carole was that this was a surprise for Tommy, and how excited he was. ĩ½Our sympathy to Tommy's family.##imported-begin##Michael & Janice Bonnell##imported-end##

“ It's been our pleasure to listen to Tommy's In the Mood Show as our family time on Sunday nights. To hear his voice on the radio while we dance in our kitchen has provided so much joy to our young family. It was fun to see the excitement in his face when he got to share the history of radio and music trivia with other people. He had a real heart for people, for pets, and for his profession. God bless you Tommy.##imported-begin##Ed & Erin Soper##imported-end##

“ Tommy and I met working together at WLIP in Kenosha WI. We both suffered through board op'ing those never ending Brewer's games and became friends. We both ended up getting fired around the same time. (We were replaced by automation.) In typical Tommy "Gun" Gates fashion rather than look upon the firing negatively he immediately said: "Now that we have the time let's do a cable access show." Tommy and I co-hosted "The Big Show On Video" in Kenosha county WI and Lake County IL for several years. Together with assorted friends we mocked, punned and ridiculed our way across both counties for a couple of years. I always thought of Tommy as my Ed McMahon and I was his Letterman. An odd combination for sure but he always made me laugh, which was good enough for me. Over the last several years I had lost touch with Tommy and sadly a friend came across this obituary page when we started trying to track him down. Tommy was a sweet man with a big heart, a love for music and radio, full of corny jokes and goofy stories that always made me laugh. I treasure my autographed photo of Tommy (It was the headshot he used for print and commercial work.) that I cajoled him into signing to me. He will be missed by myself and the rest of the 'Big Show' family.##imported-begin##Mike Smith##imported-end##

“ All of your expressions are so touching and encouraging to our family.Tommy was one of a kind. He loved doing his work so much so that he would come home and play his favorites all over again for me to listen to. His passion for music and his love for his listeners always inspired him to do his absolute best on the air. So often he you would hear him when he was feeling awful but it would never come across in his golden voice. As his sister stated i ½earlier, he had a passion for model railroading and would spend countless hours reading about how to create his next layout. i ½As his health began to fail him, he took solice in trying his hand at art. He created many different pieces on canvas, some of which he sold.Next to trains, his most favorite thing to do was to cuddle up on the couch and watch old movies. He loved gardening in the summertime he care for vegatables and beautiful roses.
i ½Tommy was so handsome and so charming.He will be missed by so many but not forgotten.His body betrayed him, but he never stopped loving his work.Thanks to you all for caring so much for him. He certainly could feel your love and affection right through the radio waves. :o)###imported-begin###Carole Liantonio###imported-end###

“ "Tommy Gates" was my rock in nasty weather. When I'd hear him on the air I knew exactly how to react to the impending storms. He always had a calming effect on the situation and I never doubted - as with my dad, a farmer in his youth - that when Tommy said we were back in the safe zone that we indeed were.I was honored to speak with him on Monday, May 26 when I won a contest. He was, as always, jovial, teasing and just plain funny.But I know he's well now, and will without a doubt be watching over us all. His loved ones, especially, will feel his presence. “ To The Family:You have my deepest sympathy in the loss of "Tommy Gates".I know it is a difficult time for the family, but take comfort in knowing that this wonderful "personality" made life so enjoyable for everyone around him, especially his "loyal listeners".What a "fountain of knowledge", and from where I sat beside the car radio, he seemed to be one of the "kindest" men I have ever come accross. His "sign-off" everyday was such a very "kind" grouping of words that conveyed a wonderful message. Part of which was "if you're in the car, thanks for the ride".Tommy, "thanks" for being there. I know now you are on a "much more important ride" now. It's your turn to "enjoy the ride". “ I wanted to sign this page briefly and let all his friends, fans and co-workers know how much our family appreciate ALL of your kind words about my brother. ½
½ While this is a sad time, it makes me glad to know Tommy had so many people around him who enjoyed his funny stories, his show and ½ "musicology" as much as I did too, whether up close & personal or "on the air"! ½
½ Just like many of you, I also learned A LOT of popular music history from him. Music was a very large part of our family life going right back to our parents, who were talented musicians in their own right. ½
½ Some of you might know that Tommy was also an avid train buff, starting right here in NYC with our subway system, and creating his own "model railroad" layouts. That was something that was a lifelong enjoyment for as long as I can remember.

I've wanted to keep this short, so I'll again say thanks to all, and hope you'll continue to remember Tommy in a story he told, a particular expression, or a special song or artist he may have exposed you to.##imported-begin##Tina Liantonio##imported-end##

“ Tommy was my friend or as he would say on the air "My GOOD BUDDY James Jones!". I am sad with his passing, not be able to hear him on the radio, & the conversations we had as one buddy to another. I will celebrate his life though, enjoy the good & hilarious memories we shared, and his warm smile even when life was not so accomadating. I referred to Tommy as a walking encylopedia of music knowledge. He truly loved music and the people that listened to his shows. He had quite a following. Tommy I will truly miss you my friend and I hope you have a "great gig" in Heaven, I am sure the Lord is enjoying your wonderful personality & your bits of trivia that came off the top of your head. Rest in Peace Tommy... Love,
