“ *My most sincere condolences to the whole clan for a loss such as this. Words cannot express how deeply sorry I am. Any member of a family is heart breaking, but when it is a child it seems unfair.

If any good has come out of it, it is to remind myself and others how precious life is and how we should not squander it. It is a reminder we should live every minute as if it were our last because it very well maybe. It is a reminder we should love another and not to be afraid to tell each other so.

My prayers will be with you during this time of loss.

“ My sincere condolences go out to all of Trevor's family. ĩ½There are no words that can make this easier on any of you. ĩ½I'm glad that we were able to offer you a little bit of support on the sad day that Trevor became an angel. ĩ½We will be here for you any time, do not hesitate to call or email anytime for any reason. ĩ½I will keep all of you in my prayers as I remember all too well, what a "rough road" this is. I believe Cody met Trevor as he entered heaven. ĩ½They will be forever friends, since they both left their families so soon. ĩ½I hope that seeing how Judy Jo and I have made it through such a sad experience will make you see that although things seem worse than worse right now, they will get easier. ĩ½You will never forget what happened, but time does heal. ĩ½I'm sending big Hugs your way. ĩ½Let us know if we can do anything to help any of you out. ĩ½Angel Baby Trevor is looking down on all of you with such love in his heart. He knows just how lucky he was to have such wonderful family and friends in his short life. ĩ½

Blessings,

“ Beth, Jason and entire family.

I know there are no words that can make things better right now, but know that my prayers are with you always. You have my deepest of condolences. Remember I am here for you 24/7. It has been an honor to have met you all.

Our Cody met your Trevor too, with a smile on his face. They will be best friends forever,,,,,, Like the poem says
