“ Jenny was one person you could count on to stand up for the underdog. She could lift your spirits and was always willing to listen and encourage others. I have known her since we were teenagers, and the first time I met her was on "the square". I don't believe I ever heard her say that she gave up on anything, no matter how difficult. Thru the years there was one thing she made quite clear....her daughter Trina was the light in her life. There was never a conversation that she didn't bring her up, and she was so proud of her. It's been a while since I've seen Jenny, but her memory is never far from thought, I always admired her strong will and endurance. My heartfelt sympathy goes to her family, I know that she is going to be missed tremendously.##imported-begin##Joyce Caise##imported-end##
